

Shannon Moore is an Assistant Professor of Child and Youth Studies at Brock University and received her PhD in Counselling Psychology from the University of Victoria . Her scholarship emphasizes the implementation of United Nations Meta-narratives as frameworks for community-based justice (e.g. UN Basic Principles for Restorative Justice, UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, and the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities). This focus on social and transformational justice includes investigations that bridge education, critical theory, human rights and mental health. As a clinical counsellor, Shannon Moore has practiced both privately and as a consultant within educational, social service, mental health and correctional service contexts in Canada and the United Kingdom.
