Interview IJJO

24/05/2006

IJJO / International Juvenile Justice Observatory

National, Philippines - One of the ambition of the IJJO is to offer you day after day an updated and personalized information. That is why we have created a new service which is called 'IJJO Interviews'. In this first edition, the IJJO has asked Mr. Alberto Muyot, UNICEF (Philippines), to answer our questions about the new law that has been approved in the Philippines: 'The Juvenile Justice Welfare Act 2006'.

This law forbids the imprisonment of minors, increases the criminal liability age from 9 to 15 years old, and introduces the concept of restorative justice instead of criminal justice. This law also permits the creation of rehabilitation programmes and alternatives for imprisonment, as well as rehabilitation services and accompaniment of the minor.

In this interview, Mr. Muyot, member of UNICEF Philippines, tells about the progress of the situation of minors in conflict with the law and a better protection of the minor's rights.

During the conference organised by the Council of Bars and Law Societies of Europe (CCBE), on the initiative of their Criminal Law Committee, Fernando Piernavieja, a Spanish speaker, explained the existing difficulties caused by the implementation of the European Arrest Warrant as well as the exercise of the rights of the defence.

As a result of the dialogue during the debates and reports by lawyers, judges and community officers, the CCBE asks that this person will have the power to report the misuse and violations of procedural criminal law and human rights, independently and with moral authority.
