IJJO Study: Situation and treatment of unaccompanied minors in Europe

22/11/2007

IJJO / Observatorio Internacional de Justicia Juvenil

Europe, Region - 'Situation and treatment of unaccompanied minors in Europe' is a study elaborated by the International Juvenile Justice Observatory (IJJO) whose author is Daniel Senovilla, Phd on this subject, at the Migrations Study Institute -University of Comillas in Madrid, Spain- and the Centre Migrinter - University of Poitiers, France -CNRS.

This study shows the European answers to the increasing emigration during the last two decades of young people proceeding from different parts of the planet, whose destinations are the so called 'first world' countries in the hope to find a future and a better life.
