COLLABORATION FORUM

Given the recent publication of an English Guide of Guarantees for teachers allowing the use of physical force to stop the students' possible violent acts (you can read the Spanish translation the team from Studies for Childhood (Argentina) made on: www.noveduc.com), we want to open the debate on the ideological, moral, psychological and pedagogic, if any, meaning and value of the physical aggressions between teachers and students.

Which objective and subjective factors do you believe to be able to motivate a child or young person to react against the teacher with physical aggression?

 ENGLISH GUIDE OF GARANTEES FOR TEACHERS
